Namaste,

Greetings from Capacity Building Commission!

Capacity Building Commission (CBC) invites all government employees across Central, State or Local government, (including group A, B or C) to share innovative practices that they have undertaken in public administration. This will be an opportunity for officers to showcase and share their work, initiatives, and innovations. We request submissions from officers on a special page on the MyGov platform.

The submission page can be accessed at: [<https://innovateindia.mygov.in/cbc-inviting-innovations/>]

CBC will use these submissions as case studies for capacity building of present and future civil servants, and to assist in developing a Knowledge Repository that can be accessed by all to scale-up successful innovations in the country. Select innovations will also feature as part of the Annual Health of Civil Services Report to be submitted to the Prime Minister's Public Human Resource Council (PMHRC).

A flyer is attached for your perusal. For the purpose of maximum outreach, you are requested to disseminate with relevant departments, divisions, people and on various platforms in your network.

This is forwarded for appropriate action.

Greetings from Capacity Building Commission!

Capacity Building Commission (CBC) has launched the "Innovation in Public Administration" challenge on February 4th 2022. All government employees across Central, State or Local governments, (including group A, B or C) are invited to share any successful innovative practices in public administration from their office. This is an opportunity for officers to showcase and share their work, initiatives and innovations in public administration. The submissions are accepted on a special page on the MyGov platform (<https://innovateindia.mygov.in/the-inviting-innovations/>).

In order to reach out to the maximum number of government employees/civil servants we request your assistance in disseminating the information in the attached document.

Seeking your cooperation in the matter.
